

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Conexim Australia Pty Ltd launches, Rego.com.au. The easiest, one stop, web hosting and domain registration solution for small business.

Rego.com.au – Your online web presence

SYDNEY, NSW (April 12, 2005) – Conexim Australia Pty Ltd, announced today the launch of Rego.com.au.

Rego.com.au are fully equipped to meet the needs of small to medium businesses by providing competitive business web hosting and domain name registrations. These products are fully backed by Conexim's current, tier one enterprise facility and support programs in Sydney, NSW. The move to a dedicated SME hosting arm further strengthens the company's one-stop enterprise capabilities to encompass companies with less than fifty employees.

Rego.com.au will officially launch with a single offer: Professionally managed online hosting for just $29.95 a month. No contracts, no setup fees, free 24/7 tech support, free antivirus and antispam software, plus, the ability to acquire dot com dot au domain names at just $48.95 for two years.

"This is currently Australia's cheapest dot com dot au domain name price", said Conexim's Director, Lucian Kafka.

He added, "A super fast online presence, 24/7 is our goal. Our online setup options for new users offer unparalleled automation, allowing business users to create their account in less than five minutes. Rego.com.au is a business hosting and domain name registration solution that's unbelievably easy to use and exceptionally well supported".

When queried on the competitive nature of hosting services currently available in Australia, Kafka notes, "Rego's services are aimed solely at the needs of SMEs who are looking for ease of entry and reliability. Conexim's carrier class infrastructure ensures our clients maximum uptime and redundancy through our locally owned and managed servers. This, coupled with full 24/7 tech support is exactly what business needs today".

Rego.com.au – "Your online web presence", will launch in May with a solid Sydney radio campaign, and a continuation of great offers.
